

PHRASAL VERBS WITH 'LOOK'

phrasal verb	meaning	example
look after	take care of someone/something	I've been looking after my mum's dog for the past few weeks.
look at	focus attention on	Look at the cloud formation in the sky, it's very odd.
look away	turn your focus away	Look away while I choose a card.
look back	review something from the past or turn around and look behind	I've been looking back through my old school photos.
look down on	treat someone as inferior or watch from heaven	Your dad will be looking down on you and smiling when you get married.
look for	search for something	I'm going to look for somewhere else to live, my rent is going up a lot.
look forward to	be excited about something that will happen in the future	I look forward to Christmas every year.
look in on	visit briefly	I looked in on the baby when I went to the toilet, he is sound asleep.
look into	investigate on look inside a room/object	I looked into different modes of transport. The train works out the cheapest.
look on	watch but don't participate	The pedestrians looked on in horror as the bus burst into flames.
look out	watch something on the outside from inside or be careful	He looked out the window and watched the snowflakes falling.
look out for	keep watch or care for/keep your eye one care of	Janet's daughter is moving to your school tomorrow, make sure you look out for her.
look over	examine/inspect or look to a specified direction	I looked over at her and she was looking at me. It must be love.

phrasal verb	meaning	example
look round	inspect a building or explore somewhere	I've been looking round town all afternoon but, I can't find anything to wear to the party.
look through	read quickly or search for something among a lot of things	I love looking through the paper with a big mug of tea .
look to	hope to do something	Rangers look to build a new stadium if they get promoted.
look up	search for some information or turn your eyes to the sky	I'm looking up but, I can't see a hot air balloon.
look up to	admire/respect	All the young boys look up to Ronaldo. He's a great football player.

